MEDICINAL.

Advise Suffering Women Strongly, to Take Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This advice comes from a woman who has suffered all the miseries women can suffer from disease, and had been perfectly and permanently cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This great medicine for women establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

Read Mrs. Kempton's letter and, if you are sick, follow her advice.

"Although it has been quite a time since I wrote you, says Mrs. Fred Kempton, of Cambridge, Mass., I am still enjoying good health, thanks to you and your Favorite Prescription. When I think how I was five years ago, and then see how I am now, I say, God bless Dr. Pierce's works, and may he live long to help poor suffering women. I have never had any return of my weakness and am well and hearty. Can do all my own work without any pain. You saved me from the grave when all others failed. I advise suffering women strongly to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as I know it will cure in all cases, if indeed there is a cure."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are an excellent laxative, suited to the use of delicate women.

CIVILIZATION AND ARTISAN.

The R. Rev. Alexander Mackay, D.D., bishop coadjutor of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Pennsylvania, in a sermon preached to the graduating class of the Divinity School, in the Church of the Advocate, Philadelphia, bitterly assailed the tendencies of modern civilization. He said:

"What is civilization doing for the masses? She is content tending to make him, so far as she alone is concerned, a failure in all true progress. For a trifling price she gives him every day a newspaper which, with more reading matter to him than his father saw in the whole of his life, renders him, unless better than the average, impatient of restraint, and fills him frequently with a devil's longing, a devil's passion against those better off than he. It seems impossible for the vast mass of workers in the world ever to be thoroughly educated. The conditions of their lives forbid it. And in their imperfectly educated minds the crude theories of other half-taught men work like madness. Three conditions make dangerous an untaught man in our time, if he is simply the product of a material civilization and nothing more. These three are increased information through a cheap press which floods him every day with half-truths and false history; increased power through the tendency of all institutions toward democracy; increased comfort through public improvement and cheap manufactures, which gives him the taste for and keeps him always longing after some luxury just beyond his reach. Last of all, what is material civilization doing for the wealthy and educated? She is always tending to increase wealth, but has yet no remedy for those colossal fortunes which are the curse and threat of our time. She separates classes, making one fastidious and another envious. She is the Cleopatra calling on Antony to leave his Roman virtues and worship at the throne of mere beauty and comfort. This is the terrible indictment of material civilization as the word is generally used."

Dr. Mackay-Smith closed by declaring that the only hope for the world was in religion. Turning to the six young divines for whose especial guidance his sermon was intended, he said: "And if the clergy do not show the world that he answers by his power over them, woe to the world! Oh ye who pass today from the cloister to the highway, it is your task to make God visible again in homes from which the world has turned him off."

THE SHIPPING COMBINE.

The London Daily News, in its financial article this morning, says it is believed that the bulk of the Cunard Company's shares is now in American hands.

The statements which have recently appeared in the English press and which forecasted the formation of an all-British shipping combine seem to be open to grave doubt. Judging from careful inquiries made in the most influential quarters of London, almost all of what has so far been printed is not only premature, but inspired. Its purpose is to assist toward the realization of this shipping project, which is almost as visionary now as it was a month ago.

The circumstantiality with which these published reports have been adorned contrasts strangely with the statements of those without whose support such a combine would be futile. Even the cardinal point upon which the published stories were hung—the utilization of Canadian subsidies—seems to be untrue.

A London cablegram to the New York Evening Post says: "An accurate statement of the Cunard Company's position is believed to be as follows: J. P. Morgan and Albert Ballin, of the Hamburg-American Line, secured a provisional option some time ago upon more than 50 per cent. of the Cunard Company's stock, this option to be void if a special agreement between the company and the British government were completed. It is understood that the Morgan syndicate has now made a handsome offer to the Cunard Company, which must be submitted to the shareholders, but the Cunard Company is also trying to force the government's hands. The result of the negotiations with the government is uncertain."

NEGRO LYNCHED.—A special dispatch from Wise Court House says: The negro Wiley Gwynn, who attempted to commit an assault on a twelve-year-old white girl, the daughter of Franklin Green, at Tom's creek, was taken from the calaboose at Bondtown at 3 p. m. Thursday by an angry crowd of armed men and shot dead on the spot, in the presence of W. G. G. Dotson, commonwealth's attorney, who was pleading with the lynchers to let the law take its course and give the defendant a trial. The little girl upon whom the assault was attempted is the daughter of a county farmer, and was passing over a ridge from her home to Tom's creek mines, carrying berries, when she was attacked by the negro. Her screams after a time frightened the negro away, and those who heard her come to her rescue. The negro was identified by the girl.

MEDICINAL.

More Harmful Than Alcohol

Overeating Worst Form of Intemperance.

If your food is undigested, you are underfed, no matter how much you eat. And the underfed man is, to the extent of the underfeeding, crippled for the battle of life. On the other hand, there is such a thing as overeating. The harm done by indigestion caused by overloaded stomachs exceeds that from the increased heart beats caused by the use of alcohol or whiskey.

Eat as much good food as you need but don't overload the stomach. If your stomach is weak it may refuse to digest what you eat. Then you ought to use a good digestant like Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, which digests what you eat without the stomach's aid. This rest and the wholesome tonics contained in Kodol Dyspepsia Cure soon restore health. You don't have to diet. Don't eat too much. That's harmful. But eat enough and of sufficient variety. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will digest it. It quickly relieves the sensation of fullness and bloating from which some people suffer after meals. It prevents belching and absolutely cures indigestion and other stomach troubles. Equally good for children.

Lemuel James, Maryland, O., says: "I suffered from dyspepsia for four years but a few bottles of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure completely cured me and I heartily recommend it to all sufferers from this disease."

Read It in His Newspaper.

George Schaub, a well known German citizen of New Lebanon, Ohio, is a constant reader of the Dayton Volkszeitung. He knows that this paper contains the only real heat in its columns, and when he saw Chamberlain's Pain Balm advertised therein for lame back, he did not hesitate in buying a bottle of it for his wife, who for eight weeks had suffered with the most terrible pains in her back and could get no relief. He says: "After using the Pain Balm for a few days my wife said to me, 'I feel as though born anew,' and before using the entire contents of the bottle the unbearable pains had entirely vanished and she could again take up her household duties." He is very thankful and hopes that all suffering likewise will bear of her wonderful recovery. This valuable liniment is for sale by Richard Gibson, druggist.

Don't Start Wrong.

Don't start the summer with a lingering cold. We all know what "the cold" is. It's the hardest thing to cure. Often it "hangs on" through the entire season. Take it in hand right now. A few doses of One Minute Cough Cure will set you right. Sub. cure for croup, cold, croup, whooping cough, and lung troubles. Absolutely safe. Acts at once. Children like it. "One Minute Cough Cure is the best cough medicine I ever used," says J. W. Bowles, Groverton, N. H. "I never found anything else that acted so safely and quickly. For sale by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons."

TO THE OWNERS OF DOGS.

Mayor's Office. Alexandria, Va., June 2, 1902.

All persons owning or intending to keep any animal of the dog or canine species must come forward on or before JUNE 14, 1902, and take out a license for the same from the Auditor. After the 14th of June all persons owning or harboring dogs without the required license will be fined (as the laws on the subject require) $5 for every dog so owned or harbored. Complaint has been frequently made that many persons fail to take out their licenses, and that others pay on one or two dogs when owning and harboring more, or who send such dogs away during the summer months and bring them back in the fall. My attention has been called to this evasion of the law, and I shall require the policemen to report all such cases and fines will be imposed upon those who fail to take out licenses.

The police officers will be required to report all violation of this law.

In order to avoid mistakes persons taking out licenses might write their name and number of residence on application for license.
